

Expert advice on the books

BUSINESS franchise 10X Limited will partner local accounting firm McLean Charge Partners to provide "high-leveraged mentoring" to boost small business in the Hills district.

10X chief executive officer Nic Clark said McLean Charge was selected to implement the 10X Coaching Club in the area.

"McLean Charge was selected for the expertise, resources and commitment they can bring to our vision of positively impacting 12,000 businesses nationally each year," Mr Clark said.

10X chairman Rob Nixon said business owners already rely on their accountants.

"They need a proactive accountant who can assist them with growth strategies, improving cash flow, increasing profits, and asset protection and succession planning," he said.

The Coaching Club provided a system to boost gross revenue and profitability.

"Many entrepreneurs report a sense of being alone in and within their business, and while family and friends may be supportive, they simply don't understand the pressures of being in business," Mr Nixon said.

For more information visit www.mcleancharge.com.au or www.10x.com.au